BALTIMORE August 1[illegible] —The Third National Bank in South street was burglarized last night and $100 000 belonging to the bank with unknown amounts belonging to private parties stolen. The robbers cut through the wall from an adjoining store which had been occupied since June by a man named Stable and others professing to be commission merchants. Two large safes in the vault were cut in two and robbed. The wildest excitement prevails. A rumor is current on the street to the effect that the losses by depositors in money and securities will reach half a million. Among the bonds certainly stolen are $[illegible]5 000 of the city of Louisville water coupon bonds. The bank offers $10 000 for the apprehension of the burglars. The losses of special officers cannot be ascertained. The total losses will probably amount to several hundred thousand dollars as it is known that there were several boxes of private depositors containing valuables to the amount of $75 000

CINCINNATI August 1[illegible] —The colored citizens called a meeting to-[illegible] of the recent attack upon Tubbs Gross a colored Greeley orator in Covington. Respectable colored men condemn it. Bramhall had been here two or three days carousing and gambling and it is said he has run through $5 000 or $6,000 which was given to him by his father to engage in some enterprise in Fort Smith, Arkansas. Perrin has been arrested

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Belfast Riots

LONDON, August 19 —A dispatch is just received via Dublin conveying later news from Belfast. Rioting still goes on. Four persons were killed in the streets this morning. Peaceably disposed citizens of Belfast are greatly dissatisfied with the want of vigor evinced by the authorities in suppressing the riots. Ruffians with pistols in hand walk through the city and whole sections are given up to the rioters

LONDON August 19 4 P M —Advices from Belfast state that shots continue to be exchanged in the streets, though it is not known that the rioters have concentrated in large numbers at any point

A telegram from Turgan Ulster county on the Belfast and Ulster railway says that serious disturbances have occurred there and that the authorities have called the military to their aid

LONDON August 19 5 P M —A later telegram says the city is about to be placed under martial law. The same telegram states that the military are now charging on the rioters in the centre of the town

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO August 20 —E R Carpenter has filed his answer to the petition of Matilda Heron Byrne Stoepel who claims to be the widow of the late Harry H Byrne for an allowance of $200 per month from the estate for her support pending the final decision of her claims. He denies that she was the lawful wife of deceased at the time of his death stating that if any such marriage existed it was dissolved years before and that she subsequently married another man (Stoepel) and had a child by him now living. He further states that the debts in one form or another due from the estate amount to nearly one hundred thousand dollars, and that after paying them the expenses of administration and a part of the legacies there will be nothing left to pay the remainder. She was in the Probate Court at the hearing of affidavits and vehemently denied that she was ever divorced from Byrne. She said she left him on account of her religion. The case comes up for final hearing on Friday

Arrived—French bark [illegible] from Tautu [illegible] with [illegible] packages sugar to Furstein & C

The steamer Olympia was hauled out on the dry dock and is being repaired. It is now stated that she had broken her suction pipe and will be all right and ready to go on again some time to day

The discussion on the report of the committee who conferred with Governor Stanford on the compromise and subsidy for the Ravenswood bridge and track along the bay front to Mission Bay will be resumed this afternoon in the Committee of 100 and a final vote taken to morrow. The discussion yesterday only settled the preliminary part of the report. The friends of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad project will insist on a provision being incorporated which will secure a double track over the bridge and give that company the right of way over the road from the bridge to Mission Bay on the payment of a pro rata share of the expenses of keeping it in order and are confident that the committee as a whole will not endorse the compromise in any other form. It is believed that such a compromise would not be acceptable to the Central Pacific and it is feared that the whole project will fall through and come to nothing. Meantime the Atlantic and Pacific Company are pushing the work of obtaining subscriptions which now aggregate $352 300 from 1[illegible] subscribers. The sums by Hayward and others will increase the amount to $1 000 000. They have also secured [illegible]000 signatures to the petition for a subscription of $10 000 000 by the city. The bulk of the heavy merchants in the city are among the signers

The Board of Supervisors last night passed a resolution to contract with George L Bromley & Co to clean all paved and planked streets in the city for a year from to day at the following prices 18 miles of principal business streets at the rate of $160 per mile per month 30 miles of main streets at the rate of $80 per mile per month all the paved and planked subdivisional streets viz 12 miles at the rate of $40 per mile per month. The work to be done on all the principal thoroughfares as designated by the Superintendent of Streets between the hours of [illegible] M and [illegible] A [illegible] and all the work is to be done to the satisfaction of the Committee and Superintendent of Streets

Prof Agassiz telegraphs from San Diego to the Academy of Sciences that he will be in the city on Thursday or Friday

POLITICAL NOTES

Wise of Virginia and Toombs and Stephens of Georgia will take active part in the Louisville Convention

Ferrand Wood discovers that all good men including himself and Bill Tweed are for Greeley

[illegible] has been suspended [illegible] subscribers are however just as well served. They having gone over to the New York [illegible]

Congressman D[illegible] (Dem) of West Virginia publishes a letter in which he says he shall support the nominees of the Louisville Convention

Democrats who used to revile Gen Kilpatrick with all sorts of names when he was foreign Minister now coddle him as fondly as though he had never disgraced our country abroad

Henry Clay Warmoth extends the tips of his dainty fingers across the bloody chasm and is anxious to shake. Henry Clay is good on the shake. He shook Louisiana for several millions

The New York Tribune advertises The New Life of Horace Greeley. It probably means Life of the New Horace Greeley. The old Horace Greeley, the Horace Greeley we admired is dead

In a speech at Augusta Maine, a few days ago Secretary Boutwell said that the power of the Republican party has not diminished but is everywhere strengthened and increasing. The witnesses are New Hampshire Connecticut, Oregon and North Carolina

Says the St Louis Democrat: Colonel Ward H Lamon of Martinsburg West Virginia is reaching across the bloody chasm for a seat in Congress. If Colonel Ward writes another book like the Life of Lincoln somebody will cowhide the son of Jerry Black within an inch of his life

It is rumored that Garrison is likely to draw the fire of Sumner. With Garrison Gerrit Smith Beecher and Douglass of the Old Liberty Guard, pouring their hot shot into him, he is in a fair way to realize that he has gone away from home. He had better tell them as he did Blaine, that he hasn't missed them

"Tell it to Hiram!" was the Democratic shout when the first news from North Carolina flashed along the wires. Well it was told to Hiram

"Only a rebel yell!" was the reply of the silent smoker "and that usually makes up in noise for lack of numbers." And so it proved. The rebel yell in North Carolina was very loud at first, but it already sounds very much like a wail

At No 535 East Thirteenth Street New York City on the 5th inst a Grant and Wilson Club, composed wholly of Democrats, was formed. Fully five hundred were present. Arthur McQuade was elected President. Such Clubs now exist in nearly every Ward of the city and good judges begin to be of opinion that Greeley will not carry the city by twenty thousand majority. The usual Democratic majority is sixty to seventy thousand

In Norfolk county Virginia, a few days ago the Chairman of the County Democratic Committee having announced his determination to support Grant a meeting was called by the Greeley Democracy for the purpose of deposing him. When the meeting was held it was discovered that a large majority of the Democrats present approved and sustained the action of the Chairman of the Committee, and he was not removed. This is but a sample of events of similar significance occurring all over the State

According to the Boston Traveller Gen Banks has had his grievances. He says he helped Gen Grant to his reputation by declining to supersede him in the command at Vicksburg, and he has hinted that Grant might have shown his gratitude by giving him a mission to Paris or at least giving him a larger share of patronage. The country owes Banks a debt of gratitude in this matter even if Grant does not acknowledge it. It is impossible to say what disaster might have happened if the hero of the Red river campaign had been placed in command at Vicksburg

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS

James Gordon Bennett was a school teacher in 1818. Six dollars and fifty cents a month and hash around was his reward

The Sioux are very observant. One of Spotted Tail's followers, who speaks a little English, seeing one of the servant girls of the hotel take off her chignon exclaimed "How! White woman raise her own scalp! Indian no good here!"

The present political campaign will be profitable for the hat makers. There is a fearful mania for betting on the result of the election, and almost everybody bets a hat. The manufacturers should be prepared for the rush on the market in November

The Pope has written a letter to President Thiers congratulating the French nation upon the great success of the new loan which his holiness thinks attributable to the refusal of M Goulard to accept the position of Ambassador to the Court of Italy the invader and enemy of the Holy See

Mrs Agnes Bulloch, a Virginia lady, recently cut a new set of teeth, though she is 96 years old. She was splitting kindling wood when the teeth—which were worth $60—fell out of her mouth and the ax dropped on them. Her husband says it will be a great many years before she gets another set to cut

Greeley as a "Reformer"

A Washington dispatch of August 8th gives the following from Mr Greeley's record as a "reformer"

Mr Greeley knows something about C Vanderbilt Jr. He knew once on a time that said Vanderbilt owed him $15 000 which Vanderbilt, Sr would not pay and which it seemed probable Mr Greeley would have to lose unless he could assist young Vanderbilt to get the money out of somebody else without returning any valuable consideration. The United States Treasury seemed most open to attack and it was made in regular form and was long continued. In the first place Vanderbilt was quartered on the defaulting Bailey who put him on the pay roll of his office and paid so he himself declared $[illegible]000 a year to Mr Greeley. To get the $15 000 back in this way would take longer than Jacob served for Rachel and more speedily to draw it from the fountain of the Treasury it was determined that C Vanderbilt Jr should have a better office. General Grant has been complained of for not knowing all the old laws of the United States when he nominated Mr A T Stewart for Secretary of the Treasury but Mr Greeley had not then become so wise, nor was he a Reformer. At any rate Mr Stewart was recognized as Secretary by an inundation of letters to the Department asking for offices and signed by Mr Greeley. Mr Vanderbilt's was almost or quite the first one received. It was as follows

WASHINGTON D C, March 5 1869

To Hon A T Stewart Secretary of the Treasury Washington D C—Sir I most respectfully make application for the position of Assessor of the Ninth District State of New York City of New York. Having full confidence in my ability to discharge the duties encumbent on the office not only with honor and credit to myself but to my superiors

I am Sir very respectfully your obedient servant

C VANDERBILT Jr
No 388 Fifth avenue New York

Under the letter is the following indorsement in the handwriting of Mr Greeley

I indorse the foregoing application of Mr C Vanderbilt and respectfully solicit his appointment — HORACE GREELEY, New York

Mr Vanderbilt did not receive the desired appointment and so far as known he owes Mr Greeley nearly the original amount. Any one can therefore, guess what is likely to happen to Mr Vanderbilt and the United States Treasury if Mr Greeley is elected

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Chicago Dispatches

CHICAGO August 20 —Four prisoners escaped from the county jail last night. One of their number, who is allowed the privilege of walking in the corridor secured the cell keys, overpowered the jailor, and, holding a revolver over his head, compelled him to give up the key to the outer door, with which they unlocked it and walked out. The pistols are said to have been furnished by friends outside

Panic in Wheat Market at Chicago

There is a panic in the wheat market here. Accommodations or cliques have had one of the largest corners ever known in this market. Prices of wheat for cash on August delivery, were run up to $1 70 per bushel. Yesterday heavy receipts of grain, and prospects of its continuance weakened the corner and took prices down to $1 28. This morning the market is broken entirely, and wheat is now selling at $1 12

A Postmaster Murdered

ST LOUIS, August 20 —Advices from south east Missouri say Mason Weeks, Postmaster of Race Hill, Reynolds county, was shot and killed by an unknown party on Saturday last.

CANADA

Enlistments for the Cuban Army

TORONTO, August 20 —An Ottawa correspondent of the Ledger says there is some foundation for the rumor that Cuban agents at Montreal are endeavoring to enlist men for the Cuban army. The Government being apprised of the fact has issued a proclamation warning subjects against the enlistment of insurgents for Cuba, or fitting out vessels for insurgents

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

The Belfast Riot—City in the Hands of Military.

LONDON, August 20 —A dispatch from Dublin, last night, reported no cessation in the rioting. The Belfast mob yesterday attacked three large warehouses and made a complete wreck of the interior carrying off portable articles and demolishing the merchandise. The Magistrates becoming convinced of their inability to restore order, have surrendered the city into the hands of the military, practically establishing martial law. The Commanding Officer has issued a proclamation warning citizens to remain in their houses, and stating that every person found on the streets will be looked upon as a rioter, and treated accordingly. All public houses have received orders to close, and not re open until permitted by the authorities. Dispatches from Belfast to day, between evening and 11 o'clock this morning, say only two wounded rioters have been received in the hospital. Several fights occurred this morning

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, August 20 —Receipts of wheat from the country to day are heavier than on any other former day for two years. The warehouses are rapidly filling up, and there is hardly wharfage accommodations for the discharge of cargoes

The third trial of James Hughes for arson in Contra Costa county, commenced in the County Court to day. It will, from all appearances, take a week to reach a verdict in this case

The interest in the stock market this afternoon centered almost wholly on the Ely district mines, the enormous amount of 4,590 shares Meadow Valley stock being sold, the price remaining stiff to the end of the Board, and rallying a little on the streets after the Board was over

The Executive Committee of the Committee of One Hundred are in session this afternoon, debating the different clauses in the proposed compromise one by one. It is hard to say what the final result will be when the vote is taken in the Committee of the Whole to morrow

The statement that a compromise had been effected between the P M S S Co and N P T Co by which the steamers of the former plying between here and Panama were not to touch at San Pedro and San Diego, as announced is contradicted. The change was only postponed until the 15th of September, after which date the Panama steamers will touch there, going and coming three times a month

SAN FRANCISCO, August 20 —The final debate on the adoption of the report of the sub committee of the Committee of One Hundred on the compromise with the Central Pacific Railroad Company has been postponed until four o'clock P M on Thursday

Indian Troubles

TUCSON, August 10 —Last week the Apaches stole seventy head of stock from the Papagoe Indians, and got away with them through the Santa Rita Mountains and eastward. The Papagoes followed the trail, and found where two hundred and ten head had been killed, and another place where [illegible]ght were slaughtered. After a chase they gave up the pursuit. The Papagoes will not likely stand this sort of peace a great while

Apaches are constantly visiting the Sonoita settlement. Last Sunday they carried off a lot of wheat

VICTORIA, August 20 —Her Majesty's steamer Scout, with the Governor and party on board, arrived at 4 P M yesterday. At Nanaimo the ship Shooting Star had discharged about five tons of hay for the Coal Company, and was waiting her turn to get [illegible] the shute to load coal for San Francisco. The Prince of Wales would be loaded on [illegible] or Wednesday. The Aureola had about 500 tons in on Friday afternoon.

Progress of the Northern Pacific

The August circular of the Northern Pacific Railroad, published at Philadelphia [illegible] some interesting statements relative to the progress of this great national work. We give below the most important paragraphs.

ROAD ACTUALLY BUILT.

At this date, August, 1872, regular [illegible] and passenger trains have been running for six months on schedule time over the line of the Northern Pacific road, from D[illegible] to the Eastern border of Dakota, 252 [illegible]; the track is laid and co[illegible] now run a considerable distance w[illegible] Dakota, three-fourths of the 200 miles, between the Red river and the [illegible] of the Missouri, is graded, track-laying is [illegible] ing at the rate of nearly two miles a day, and about the middle of October the road is to be completed and in operation to the M[illegible] river, 200 miles from the west line of M[illegible]sota, and 452 miles west of Lake S[illegible]. All material and equipment are [illegible] and ready for the completion and [illegible] of this section of the road

On the Pacific coast, in Washington Territory, a finished section of 25 miles has been in regular operation for some months, and an additional extent of 40 miles is now [illegible] ing completion—making 65 miles at the [illegible] ern end that will be in running [illegible] the present season. This will give a total of 517 miles of road put in operation in a little more than twenty four months from the date of beginning work, notwithstanding the delays of the first year [illegible] upon the prosecution of thorough preliminary [illegible] and the selection of the best line through a densely wooded region.

A better idea of the real magnitude of the work accomplished will be conveyed by stating that the portion of the North[illegible] road, now approaching completion, is [illegible]derably longer than the New York C[illegible] railroad and its connecting lines, [illegible] from Albany, New York, to Cleveland, Ohio; nearly as long as the combined [illegible] from Portland, Maine, through Boston, Providence, New Haven, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore to Washington, and [illegible] one and a half times the length of an air line from London to Glasgow

SURVEYS.

In addition to this actual construction the work of surveying and locating the entire line across the continent has been pushed with system and vigor, summer and winter, [illegible] ful engineering, and the selection of the best of several possible lines, have in many instances reduced the cost of con[illegible] considerably below the original [illegible]. Continuous surveys and examinations have been made from Lake Superior to Puget Sound, with the exception of a short [illegible] on the Yellowstone river, which is now b[illegible] surveyed. The results of two years' [illegible]ful examinations more than justify the Company's expectations and statements [illegible] the favorable character of the Valley R[illegible] to the Pacific—both in respect to ease of railroad construction and operation and the good character of the country traversed by the line. Exclusive of the sections already completed or under construction, there are 836 miles now being finally located and prepared for contract. This includes the section of 236 miles, extending along the valley of H[illegible] river and Glendive's creek, from the cr[illegible]ng of the Missouri in Central Dakota, to the crossing of the Yellowstone in Eastern Montana and the section between the mouth of Snake river and Lake Pen d'Oreille, west of the Rocky Mountains

WEDNESDAY MORNING AUGUST 21 1872

On the Safe Side

Here is an awful threat A gentleman in Washington county has expressed an opinion that the Democracy want to pay the rebel debt and that it is well enough to keep out of power a party who [illegible] the quality The Herald has heard this gentleman's name and it actually threatens to "hold him up to public scorn" if it ever learns of his making such remarks again Terrible Of course the offender will be anxious to avoid the withering blasts of the Herald's hot indignation

Our excited neighbor adds that its party don't want to pay the rebel debt and if it did want to, it is prohibited by the Fourteenth Amendment Excellent Thanks to the Republican party, that Amendment is the law of the land But it was engrafted on the fundamental law in spite of the most furious opposition that the Democratic party could make and that party has ever since been trying to abrogate it Assault after assault has been made upon it, but so far without success Heretofore these attacks have been made openly They have been met openly, and defeated But the present movement of the Democracy is an attempt to do covertly what an open attack has failed to accomplish Even the Herald has told us as much It has expressed its regret at the necessity which has compelled the nomination of Greeley but has tried to console itself and its readers with the reflection that the acceptance of him as a candidate is not so humiliating after all, since it is a hopeful attempt to accomplish by indirection the very same ends which direct effort has failed to reach

A short time ago the Herald said that its party simply intends "to use Mr Greeley to establish its principles; he is a means, not an end." If its principles are to be "established," of course the Fourteenth Amendment must be cast out of the Constitution Then the prohibition as to paying the rebel debt will be removed, and the Democracy will have a free field in which to work their own sweet will After all, we are not sure but the Washington county gentleman, whose name the Herald threatens to "hold up to public scorn," is on safe ground in opposing the Greeley Democracy Evidently he is a person of judgment and penetration, and looks quite through the intentions of those who are trying to "use" Greeley to "establish their principles

Frankly Confessed.

Now and then a leading Democrat is found who has the frankness to confess the aims and purposes of those of his party who support Greeley. Jerry Black is one of these. He has recently written a letter which is quite remarkable for its disdain of all the concealments with which others more adroit have been trying to mask the aims of the "reform" movement Jerry Black frankly says that the endeavor to elect Greeley is a final effort to set aside the constitutional amendments and the general results of the war These amendments, he declares, are "frauds upon the spirit and letter of the Constitution" He says they were "carried against the known will of nearly every State in the Union," and that the course pursued to secure their adoption cannot be forgotten "so long as any portion of the people are compelled to bear the intolerable burden of the yoke thus fastened upon them." He then admits that "Greeley's election will not do all that could be wished to free us from these evils, but it will begin the process of their gradual extinction." A victory, he reminds the Democracy, may not give them everything at once, but it will open the way for a gradual reversal of all they have complained of and grievously borne for many years.

Now this is frank and fairly spoken It has the merit of plainness and it is free from all false pretenses Beyond doubt, most Democrats who support Greeley are impelled by considerations like these. They think they see a way through him to set aside or render inoperative those measures of the Republican party, which give form and effect to the results of the war Though they would not be able to annul at once the constitutional amendments themselves, they would have power to make them practically void They could repeal all the legislation which has been provided to give them spirit and force, and nullify them as effectually as if they were formally abrogated. This argument was brought out by Speaker Blaine in his powerful letter to Senator Sumner. The utterances of a representative Democrat like Jeremiah Black, prove that Blaine hit the mark exactly

But we are told that the Democratic party has in good faith accepted the situation Sumner says it can be trusted to maintain the rights of the colored people and to enforce the political changes that have resulted from the great struggle of the last twelve years Do declarations like these from Black, who unquestionably speaks the mind of nearly the whole body of his party, look like it? Depend upon it, there has been no sudden and miraculous change in the nature of the Democratic party. That party is still inspired by its old purposes and hatreds, and its success would not bring peace, but a sword

Some of the Greeley papers, in their comments upon the rapidity with which the new French loan was taken up, have been drawing unfavorable comparisons with Mr Boutwell's policy in negotiating for the reissue of a portion of our bonded debt But they do not state that the new French loan was taken at fifteen and a half discount, while our loan was issued at par In other words, subscribers to the French loan received $100 of stock for every $84 50 paid in, while subscribers to our loan got only $100 of stock for $100 in cash

In many of the Eastern States the Republican campaign has been opened with tremendous energy At Bangor, Maine on the 9th inst a remarkable political gathering took place. Nearly the whole population of the Penobscot Valley was present A procession, the largest ever witnessed in Maine, passed through the streets It was headed by eighteen hundred men on horseback from Piscataquis county The meeting was addressed from different stands by Secretary Boutwell and John A Bingham

Should Charles O Conor be nominated at Louisville on such a platform as he could accept, what a stampede there would be from the ranks of the Greeley Democrats It has been understood for some time so Eastern journals inform us that Mr O Conor would not refuse a nomination if tendered to him by a respectable body of representative Democrats. He has steadily opposed Greeley

Some new features of the census are shown by figures just published Classification as to sex shows that in 1870 the men and boys of the country numbered 19 493,665, while the women and girls numbered 19 064 806 The surplus of the male sex is 428,8[illegible]

This is the way that Greeley capital is manufactured Recently there was a grand Greeley ratification meeting at Elmira N Y the call for which was signed by 1 100 voters Fifty four voters in a single shop whose names appeared in the call have come out with a card stating that their names were used without their knowledge Further developments go to prove that these and a host of other names were simply copied from different pay rolls and attached to the call without authority

Grant in a recent conversation said he had no unkind words to utter concerning Senator Sumner but was willing to let his acts stand in history against Sumner's words

The Sacramento Union a paper which is careful in its judgments thinks the Greeley movement is on the ebb tide No fact is plainer than this

OREGON

Monmouth College will open the first of September

Dr A I Nichlis of Salem has been appointed physician at the Klamath Indian Reservation

A report is current in Washington county that the railroad company designs putting in a side track one mile east of Hillsboro

It is rumored that some person unknown a day or two ago attempted to set on fire the wood shed at Cornelius which belongs to the O C R R, and contains two hundred cords of wood

In an article on the coming Senatorial election the Statesman says It seems to be conceded by all who have spoken on the Senatorial question soon to be tried in the Legislature that the members of the Republican majority will have a conference or caucus for the purpose of determining the will of the majority of the people and that that being determined, the choice of the majority should be made unanimous We know of no other way to settle fairly the conflicting claims which may be presented by aspirants—not a few in number, as it appears

A correspondent at Hillsboro writes It is rumored that a Greeley vegetable Club will be organized at this place If any body attempts to organize such a nuisance we shall call in the high constable and get a writ of abatement from the chief justice, so that citizens olfactories may not be made to ache with excessive elevation And if it shall come to pass that it shall sour on the stomachs of the Greeleyites and they shall be made to spew it out of their mouths as an abomination and to purify at Bascom's, so that they may be received back into citizenship "

The Salem Statesman says "Our millers report considerable grain coming into town, but as yet have no fixed price But wheat is worth in the neighborhood of sixty five cents a bushel, and oats about fifty cents The Salem Flouring Mills received about 10 000 bushels of wheat last week, and it is now coming in at the rate of about 2 000 bushels a day They have made arrangements with the Oregon and California Railroad to fill every car with flour which they receive loaded with wheat This will no doubt prove an excellent arrangement for both parties

THE TERRITORIES

Clam bakes at Puget Sound are now in order Large parties participate

The assessment roll of Washington Territory foots up about $2,000,000 more than last year

The total number of certificates issued from the Olympia Land Office since its establishment is 7,132

The Kalama Beacon regrets that Washington Territory is divided by mountain ranges into three distinct sections of separate local interests, each part requiring legislation as distinct from the other two parts, in regard to material development, as though the Territory was a triune confederacy of independent communities The Beacon thinks, and rightly, that political boundaries should accord with natural boundaries

BRITISH COLUMBIA

British Columbia papers are discussing "The Indian, what to do with him" Our Jo. Lane says, "Scalp him"

Party nomenclature is peculiar among the British brethren, also. The Colonist calls its opponents the "Grits."

Victoria papers complain that their country is so little known that their spars and other products are credited to Oregon.

The Colonist gives favorable reports of the progress of the Canadian Pacific railway explorations They are now endeavoring to find a pass from the Quesnel Lakes to Thompson River

H M S Repulse, flagship of Admiral Hilyer has been commissioned for the Pacific. The steam sloop Tenedos, 3 guns, 1,756 tons, 350 horse power Capt. Ray, was commissioned on the 5th ult She will relieve H M S Scylla in the Pacific

Malcolm Cameron, in one of his recent speeches, made a statement to the effect that it was impossible to construct the Canadian Pacific Railway in consequence of the engineering difficulties in the way, and that the Dominion Government were aware of the fact, but made a show of pushing forward the work for the purpose of influencing the elections

Douglas on Trumbull

The following from the Lincoln Douglas Debates is the opinion held and uttered by Stephen A Douglas concerning Senator Trumbull The extract is from Douglas' speech at Ottawa, Illinois, August 21, 1858

Trumbull, too was one of our own cotemporaries He was born and raised in Connecticut, was bred a Federalist, but removing to Georgia turned Nullifier, when nullification was popular and as soon as he disposed of his clocks and wound up his business migrated to Illinois turned politician and lawyer here, and made his appearance in 1841 as a member of the Legislature He became noted as the author of the scheme to repudiate a large portion of the State debt of Illinois which if successful would have brought infamy and disgrace upon the fair escutcheon of our glorious State The odium attached to that measure consigned him to oblivion for a time I helped to do it I walked into a public meeting in the Hall of Representatives and replied to his repudiating speeches and resolutions were carried over his head denouncing repudiation and asserting the moral and legal obligation of Illinois to pay every dollar of the debt she owed and every bond that bore her seal Trumbull's malignity has followed me since I thus defeated his infamous scheme

MARRIAGE FAIR IN HUNGARY —Among the mountains in the eastern part of Hungary a fair of marriageable youths and maidens is held every year To the plain of Kalinoas parents repair with their sons and daughters from a large extent of country They bring with them such cattle, furniture and money as they expect to give as marriage portions When the tents are pitched or the wagons ranged in order, the match making begins The girls dressed in their best are seated among their treasures The young men walk around to see what strikes their fancy The fathers and mothers are more interested in prying into the value of the property that is to go with the several maidens Every article is examined in order that its defects may be noticed If the respective parents are satisfied with the property that is to be given the young people are brought together to see how they like the selection that has been made If they are pleased with each other a priest is called who marries the couple chants a hymn and says a prayer The bride kisses her parents, says good bye to her old friends and starts out with the husband she never saw before We like this frankness and lack of sham Americans do substantially the same things in order to perfect eligible matches but are at a good deal of pains to cover up their intentions

WEDNESDAY MORNING AUGUST [illegible] 1872

STRA[illegible] —On Sunday some person [illegible] the wood yard of Malon & Taylor [illegible] of Washington street a number of tools and a steam gauge used in connection with the engine The gauge was valued at $[illegible] Mr Taylor was at a loss to know what use the thieves would make of the gauge At last he concluded that the article would more likely be found at some of the second hand stores than anywhere else He accordingly went to the store kept by S Kafka and sure enough he found his gauge He of course, claimed the property This led to a dispute between Taylor and Kafka resulting in some hostile demonstrations and threats The two were arrested for disorderly conduct The case came up yesterday but was postponed until to day

SURVEYS —Mr A Blair engineer for the construction of the Wallamet bridge has ascertained the exact distance from bank to bank at the foot of several streets between the limits prescribed He has also completed the topographical surveys by which the altitude of the different streets above the lowest stage of water has been determined definitely To day he will commence the hydrographic surveys of the channel—making soundings along at various points to obtain the average depth of the water According to the recent ordinance passed by the Council but eight days more remain in which the Company have to designate the precise locality the proposed structure is to occupy

RETURNED —The Mount Hood party consisting of Messrs E T Coleman W L C Macrum Carl B[illegible]o and Mr Harvey which started from this city last Thursday morning returned last evening The party were unable to reach the summit in consequence of the heavy storm of snow and rain which continued to fall during the time the ascent was being made They succeeded in ascending about two thirds of the distance from the base to the summit when the effort was abandoned and the party returned to their camp A splendid time is reported

PAINTED —Since the Spanish bark Ma[illegible] has discharged her cargo and been thoroughly cleaned and fumigated her old stained hulk is receiving a fresh coat of paint This seems almost as necessary to the appearance of the vessel as the other precautions were to the health of the crew In many places the paint has been washed away by the ceaseless action of the waves and winds, and is consequently much corroded by exposure to the elements

LODGE INSTITUTED —Cornelius Lodge No 40 I O O F was instituted to day by J T Apperson, M W G M assisted by A J Marshall, R W D G M, C N Terry M W G Secretary, and A G Walling, Jacob Thompson, J. STRANGE GROWTH —A strange growth in the form of a huge cucumber can be seen at the Oro Fino Saloon This vegetable is six feet long and weighs 6½ pounds It twists in a number of strange shapes and folds, and bears a strong resemblance to a green petrified serpent. This cucumber was raised on the farm of James Henderson, near Walla Walla It is certainly a lapsus naturæ.

STRANGERS —In consequence of the session of the U. S District Court, and the trial of the persons charged with the mail robbery, an unusual number of strangers are now sojourning in the city. THE MAIL ROBBERY

TRIAL OF TOMPKINS BRAMLETTE HANSON AND WHITE IN THE UNITED STATES [illegible] COURT —[illegible]

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS

The Court reconvened on yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and the trial of the above cause was resumed The Prosecution was represented as before by Messrs Gibbs Dowell and Hammond and the Defendants by Messrs Caples & Moreland and Col N H Gates

TESTIMONY [illegible]

The Prosecution recalled Mrs Mary A M[illegible] who desired to correct her testimony in regard to the time when the defendant Tompkins was brought to Ward's She had stated that it was in the forenoon she now wished to state that it was in the afternoon

John Durbin was next called and testified I reside in Salem am not particularly acquainted with any of the defendants have seen them On the 12th of July last I was in Antelope Valley eight or ten miles south of Mr Moppin's After the stage robbery I went to Moppin's ranch for the mail (my son's papers) and there saw Bramlette one of the defendants I was probably on Tuesday or Wednesday and was in the fore part of the day I then had a conversation with Bramlette When I got to Moppin's Mr Adams said to me, they had taken Bramlette for robbing the stage and asked me to watch as he (Adams) wanted to go away and there were no other men folks about I learned that Bramlette was in one of the bedrooms and went in and found him lying on the bed One of his knees was swollen and he was applying cloths wet with cold water to it I assisted him some and he finally got up and came out into another room —the sitting room I said you appear to be a young man I am an old man and consider myself capable of giving young folks good advice He appeared to sanction it I said my advice to you about this matter is for you to tell the whole truth, for the truth will always bear you safe through The first he said was that it was good advice, and added that he had been led into it by others I asked him if they had done the robbing and he said they had I asked him why they did not rob the passengers He said they had orders not to disturb the passengers I asked him who gave him those orders He said Mr Tompkins gave them these orders before they got there He said there were four men engaged in it [Here the witness was handed a coarse, heavy shoe, the sole being nearly filled with brass and steel or iron tacks or brads] I have seen this shoe before I saw it at Moppin's after the stage robbery The Sheriff of Wasco county, Mr Schutz was there, and at his request I took this shoe and in company with Moppin, Attleberry and young Gilham went some distance when certain tracks were pointed out, with which I compared the shoe and found it fitted exactly I also compared the shoe with the tracks by measuring each with a small stick

Cross examined —I have a son living 8 or 10 miles from Moppin's It was a few days after the robbery that I was there There was no one in the bed room with Bramlette when I went in While I was in the bed room I had no words with him He said in the sitting room that they had robbed the stage He said they took the bags out, and that it was Tompkins who drew the gun on the driver Moppin was not at the house when I got there The first one that came was a teamster The ladies—there were two of them—told me to lock the door I locked it At the time I first went there I don't know whether the bed room door was locked or not I did not notice what kind of a lock it had When I got there it was in the fore part of the day—on Wednesday, I think I staid at Moppin's all that day and night Moppin came home I think, a little before midnight I saw the shoe the first time next morning. Moppin and the sheriff were both present, I think when the shoe was shown to me The first plain tracks I noticed were near the spring where there had been a fire and there was a pile of wood enough to keep up a small fire all night We followed the tracks about a mile and a half After I measured the tracks Moppin or Attleberry took the shoe I saw tracks made by this shoe, or one like it My impression was that it was a left shoe

Examination in chief resumed —The hill where I saw the tracks was steep The tracks were made by a person coming down the hill, and we were going up The prints in the tracks were made by the brass brads in the toe of the shoe

C Adams —I reside in Antelope Valley Wasco county Have lived there since June, 1871 On the 12th of July last I was at home Howard Moppin was there with me mowing grass and he was also there on the next day, Saturday, helping me I examined the place where the robbery occurred, on the Sunday following Moppin was much concerned about the robbery, and I had told him on Saturday that I or my son would come up to his house next morning and go with him I went up to his house on Sunday morning, and we went to the place where the stage was said to have been robbed. We then went up the canyon on the high ridge, and off in an easterly direction When we got into the canyon to the right of this ridge, we saw a track, and afterwards found two tracks, but supposed they were made by Edgar and another person who were hunting the mail sacks We afterwards discovered three tracks going north of east out of the canyon We lost the tracks, and I went to the right and Moppin to the left We found some tracks going toward the robbery, and pursued them some distance until we came to a very rocky place where it was hard to find any traces of them We then went back and struck the tracks going from the robbery and soon found that the tracks left the trail, and we pursued them to the next canyon and there lost them In searching around I found some horse tracks Moppin told me that he had found some foot tracks He followed up the foot tracks and I the horse tracks, and we found they met together We went on and found where horses had been standing We pursued the track from this place in a southeast course for about half a mile, and then went home

I made another examination of the place where the horse tracks were found, in company with Moppin, Attleberry, and Mulkey (Here the witness was shown a pair of boots) I have seen these before. If they are the same boots, and I have no doubt they are, I saw them on the day I made the last examination of the tracks I made a comparison of the footman's tracks on the hills with the boots, and am satisfied in my own mind that the tracks were made by the boots shown me

Here the Court took a recess until 1 o'clock P M

1 P M COURT CONVENED—DIRECT EXAMINATION OF C ADAMS CONTINUED

I had a conversation with defendant Bramlette the next day after his arrest at Moppin's I was at Moppin's by request It was on Friday morning Mrs Moppin her daughter and young Garret Moppin were there Bramlette said his age was 30 years, that his parents were not living —they had died on the plains I told him he was a young man, and from this out always to choose the best company he could find He then said "I am aware that Tompkins is a bad man and I have been trying to get away from him" When he said Tompkins was a bad man I told him that I did not know whether he was a bad man or not I told him to tell Mr Moppin all about it He said he would, and that Moppin had been a father to him and young Garret Moppin had been like a brother

Cross examined —The conversation with Bramlette took place on the next Friday after the stage was robbed

Mr H Moppin—I reside in Antelope valley, Wasco county Oregon, and have resided there since the spring of 1864 On the 12th of July I was mowing grass for Mr Adams The night after the stage was robbed Mr Edgar and Mr Knisely came to my house They told me the stage had been robbed in the canyon The place of the robbery was towards the Dalles from my house Edgar went to bed about 1 o clock and was gone before 3 I got up to wake him at 3 and he and Knisely were both gone This was on Saturday, and on Sunday morning Adams and I went to hunt for the tracks About a hundred yards from where the robbery took place we found the tracks of two men but supposed they were Edgar's and Knisely's tracks We went on further and found tracks of three men (Here the witness gave substantially the same account of the search for tracks as given by the witness Adams) I went to Attleberry, and he and Cantrell went with me to my house where we made preparation to go on the search next morning I learned that the Sheriff had come up and next morning I sent a messenger to hunt him who met him near my house The Sheriff went with us and we went to where Adams and I had struck the trail One of the men had got down and led his horse and his tracks were very plain We came to a spring, from the spring we trailed them some distance (Here a pistol is shown the witness who identifies it as the one found at the spring by one of the party with him at the time) We followed the trail and struck the wagon road about a mile and a half from my house The distance from my house to the scene of the robbery is all of a mile. To where the horses had been standing is all of 2½ or 3 miles from the scene of the robbery—north of east On the top of the dividing ridge between Deschutes and John Day's rivers the view is fine and you can see the road for five miles One of the horse tracks which we saw was a peculiarly long slim track resembling a mule's, another was a large round track made by an animal that seemed to be shod. I made another examination of the track in company with Mr Howe I also examined the same track in company with my son and the Sheriff when we had a shoe with [illegible] taken from an iron gray horse found near Tompkins I think Mr Tompkins bay mare make a good deal such a track as the large round track I saw a track [illegible] the iron gray horse and it looks very much like the track we discovered on the trail near the canyon We went home and traveled all [illegible] Wednesday morning we went [illegible] to [illegible] the trail which we had not before examined Here the witness was shown the [illegible] shoe [illegible] exhibited [illegible] Durbin and Adams and substantially corroborated the statements of those witnesses in regard to the comparison of the tracks with the boots and shoe The witness continued—I first saw the boots in Mr Tompkins [illegible] Mr White was with me Mr Hanson told me the Bramlette's boots were where Hanson had changed his clothes Hanson had changed his clothes at Tompkins in the loft I heard Bramlette tell Attleberry that his boots were up stairs at Tompkins On Thursday Mr Schutz requested me to go below and arrest Bramlette I took Cantrell and Attleberry and started on and met my son who told me that Bramlette was at work at Coleman's on Trout Creek and we went there and arrested him My son went back with us When we had arrested him we started back to my place

HOW DEFENDANT BRAMLETTE'S CONFESSION WAS [illegible]

The witness Moppin continued When we got about four miles I sent my son and Cantrell on home and Attleberry and I took Bramlette off from the road up the creek and I told him they were a bad set of people who defied the law and whom the law could not reach and that I was going to hang them as fast as I could catch them When I had told him this I saw that he was badly frightened and I told him that I had just one proposition to make to him and that was for him to come out and make a clean breast of it and tell who had robbed the stage and that not a hair of his head should be hurt, and that when this affair was settled he should have money to leave the country and go to his people He said he would and said — [Here the witness was about to detail Bramlette's statement to which counsel for the defendants objected After quite a lengthy argument on the objection by the attorneys the objection was overruled by the Court on the ground that the facts alleged to be contained in the confession were supported and corroborated by the testimony of witnesses already introduced on the trial touching the same matters]

THE CONFESSION

The witness continued He told me he would tell all and said he had always looked upon me as a father He said it was Frank Tompkins Ed Hanson, Mr White and himself I asked him if Mr C[illegible] was implicated He said he thought not I then asked if Mr Edgar was He said he did not know I asked him how Tompkins knew the money was coming down on that day He said he did not know unless Edgar had told him. I then said You must think Edgar knew about it beforehand or was implicated He said, as he had stated before that he did not know but he thought he was I said, "Did Mrs Tompkins know about it?" He said she did not He said the excuse they made when they left was that they were going to hunt cattle He said Tompkins drew the gun and did the talking to the driver that after the robbery they had traveled out east two or three miles to where they had left the horses, and from there struck through to the head of Curran creek and thence to the wagon road, 1½ or 2 miles from the witness' house That they traveled the road but a little piece and crossed it and struck toward the head of Curran creek where they separated He said Mr Hanson and Tompkins took the mail sacks and went off with them and sent him and White to the ranch He had never seen the mail sacks since and did not know where they were any more than I (the witness) He said he didn't know how much money was in them, and that he had not seen a dollar that was in them they had not been opened when they separated He said the mail sacks were heavy but could not tell how much a thousand dollars would weigh He thought there might be five or six thousand dollars in them He said he could not tell how much mail matter was in the sacks I asked him who rode the gray horse Frank Tompkins got from Squire Mays He said Frank rode him I asked who rode Frank's bay mare, he said Hanson rode her I asked him what horse he rode He said a little gray horse he had traded for a few day before Attleberry said, "didn't you have on the boots you offered to trade to me" He said yes and that he had left them at Tompkins I asked him who held the horses He said it was Mr White He said it was Frank, Hanson and himself who were at the stage robbery This was on Thursday

ARREST OF TOMPKINS

The witness continued On Friday, I with several others, arrested Tompkins at Mr Grater's on Trout creek Mr Attleberry presented his Henry rifle at Tompkins and told him to throw up his hands just as I passed out of the door He turned his eyes and saw me I told him not to move if he did I would kill him He said he would not resist, and asked me what this was for I told Mr Cantrell to put the irons on him After he was ironed, he turned around again to me and asked what this was for I told him then that it was for robbing the stage He asked me if I had got Hanson and White I said I hadn't but expected to have them before the sun went down I told him I had Bramlette and he had made a confession He said Bramlette was a G—d d—n fool and was either scared or crazy There was some other talk, but it didn't amount to much I sent Tompkins on to Ward's in charge of Porter, and I went to Tompkins house and arrested Hanson who told me White had gone up the valley to look for horses I sent Attleberry and Quinn to look for White They were gone about two hours and came back with him under arrest We then started with them for my house which we reached between midnight and daybreak The next morning, before I got up the Sheriff was there and took charge of the prisoners That morning Bramlette heard my voice and rapped at the door I unlocked it and asked him what he wanted He said he wanted to tell me that the confession he had made was false—that he had had made it through fear I told him "You fool, you will rub the walls of a penitentiary the balance of your days anyway" He said, I had rather do it than throw off on the boys I then turned them over to the Sheriff and had nothing more to do with them White and Hanson were there part of the night before Bramlette took back the confession By the route Tompkins usually travels it is about twenty miles from his house to mine

Here the Court adjourned until 10 o'clock, A M Wednesday

A Disease With a Thousand Symptoms
Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety and the forlorn and despondent victims of the disease often fancy themselves the prey in turn of every known malady This is due in part to the close sympathy that exists between the stomach and the brain and in part also to the fact that any disturbance of the digestive function necessarily disorders the liver the bowels and the nervous system and affects to some extent the quality of the blood A medicine that like Hostetter's Bitters not only tones the stomach but at the same time controls the liver produces a regular habit of the body braces the nerves purifies the fluids and ministers to a mind diseased is therefore the true and only specific for chronic indigestion Such is the operation of this famous vegetable restorative It is not only [illegible] but also [illegible] Moreover it is invaluable as a preventive of indigestion No one who will [illegible] to take half a wineglass full of this agreeable appetizer and stomachic habitually three times a day will ever be troubled with oppression after eating nausea, sour eructations or any other indications of a want of vigor in the digestive and assimilating organs The debility and languor superinduced by hot weather are immediately and permanently relieved by the Bitters and persons who are constitutionally inclined to look upon life as through a glass darkly will be apt to take a brighter and more hopeful view of the situation under the genial influence of this wholesome medicinal stimulant

A VISIT TO THE HOWLING DERVISHES AT SMYRNA.

[Correspondence of the Boston Globe.

Sunday comes three times a week in Smyrna. The Turkish day of worship is on Friday, the day of Mohammed's hegira; Saturday is the Jewish Sabbath, and Sunday is supposed to be observed by the "Franks," or English, Roman and Greek churches. On Friday "Isaac" came down in the morning to say that we could see and hear the howling dervishes, if we would like. So we started at about ten o'clock, and followed him through the labyrinthal streets up into Turktown, and stopped at length before a small, unpretending edifice. In front and between it and the street was a garden of tropical and native plants and trees; low palms and bright flowers; purple olives and golden pomegranates shining in the rich, green foliage. We entered through an ample gateway and crossed a mosaic pavement of little black and white stones, to a paved court of the same, which surrounded the building on three sides. On one side was another, smaller building, open on the side, facing the larger one, into which those who took part in the ceremonies retired from time to time. We were not allowed to enter the building, but might look in through the doors or windows. Around the sides of the larger hall or room, were old men with long, white beards and flowing robes, young men with rich turbans and sashes of crimson and cloth of gold; little bright eyed boys, with turban and fez and robes, like their older and sterner looking companions. Many wear a green turban, signifying that the wearer has made a pilgrimage to Mecca. All were seated in the Turkish manner; leaving a large open space in the center.

Presently one, in a long, flowing, white robe, stood in the center of the room and commenced the chant in a low, dismal tone. Then others rose, and forming a circle around him, took up the chant from time to time. Each one, as he joined the circle, put his right arm around one neighbor's neck and his left around the other's waist, the little boy joining in the circle with as much earnestness as any of the rest. All the time the low, guttural chant continues—Allah Huo! Allah Hue! as though the first word was pronounced with an inspiration and the latter with an expiration of the breath. With the first word, each one makes a backward step, and with the second, a step forward and at the same time in a direction around the ring. After a little time one or two others enter the circle and the howling begins, at first in a low wail which is gradually intensified into a perfect shriek; then it becomes more quiet; again it rises into fiercer howl, wild and abandoned; and dies away at length into a plaintive wail; again and again rises that single cry, as of a soul in deepest agony, while throughout the whole is heard the low, harsh monotone—Allah Hue! Allah Hue! like the subdued mutterings of some wild beast in pain. Indeed it is almost impossible not to connect the idea of pain with the whole ceremony. The almost shuddering motion with which the circle of worshippers moved around; the wild, lonely cry of anguish, and the low moan of animal suffering, fitly expressed the words they uttered, as the guide told us when we asked what they said: "They pray to God; they say God have mercy! God have pity!" and he cautioned us, as we went away, against repeating the words within hearing of any Turk, as it would give great offense, and might be attended with unpleasant results.

CAPITALISTS TAKE KINDLY TO THEM.

The New York Tribune, informs us that the reports from the new diamond fields discovered near the head-waters of the Colorado Chiquito, have attracted much attention in that city, and that capitalists seemed to have full faith in them. The Tribune says that small boxes full of gravel, which fairly glistens with the precious stones, had been brought there, and upon inquiring at the establishment of Tiffany & Co., in reference to the gems which have been cut in New York, the reporter of that paper was referred to the chief of the diamond department, who answered all questions except such as, in his opinion, involved the secrets of the company. A large number of diamonds from the recently discovered field—how many he declined to state—and a few rubies had been received by Tiffany & Co., for the purpose of having their value tested. A few of these had been cut. No stone of a greater value than $500 or $600 had been cut by them, but some which would probably be worth not less than $5,000 each had been cut sufficiently to show their quality. The diamonds were pronounced by him fully equal to those from South America, and far superior to those from the South African fields. No stones from Arizona have been placed upon the market, the cutting having been solely with a view to estimate the quality and value of the gems. The rubies examined by Mr. Cooke were not so good in quality as others in the market. Even if diamonds prove to be abundant in the new fields as the reports indicate—continues the Tribune—the effect upon the market value of the brilliant stone will scarcely be appreciable. Before passing into the hands of the dealer the diamond must be cut, and the number of persons capable of performing this delicate operation is small. In Amsterdam, where the business is more largely carried on than in any other part of the world, the diamond cutters have recently raised their price, and entered into a contract not to receive apprentices or give instructions to others, not even to their own sons, for three years. Diamond cutting is also done in London and by two houses in this country. Messrs. Tiffany & Co. and a Boston house, employ about a dozen men in this work. The diamond cutters have been overwhelmed with work for a long time, and the largest increase in the supply of the rough stones will not cause, therefore, a much greater number of diamonds to be thrown upon the market.

The discovery of diamonds in North America, without regard to the Indian traditions, is by no means unprecedented, and geologists have been led by the formation of the soil to look for precious stones in the region where they have been discovered recently. Twenty years ago a diamond now worn by a prominent politician was found in Virginia, and for a long time its value was unknown, as there were no diamond cutters in America then, and few persons were capable of determining the value of the stone in its rough state. This stone would be worth $5,000 if perfect, but it is said to have light flaws. Other valuable diamonds have been found in Kentucky.

The New Indian Reservation.

From the Salem Statesman.

Mr. T. B. Odeneal, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, arrived home Sunday last from a visit to southeastern Oregon. He has furnished us with the following description of a reservation he has just laid out: "Beginning at the mouth of the north fork of the Malheur river, thence up and including the waters thereof to Castle Rock, thence in a northwesterly direction to Strawberry Butte, thence down Silvies river to Malheur Lake, thence east to the south fork of the Malheur river to the place of beginning. The reservation contains about one hundred and sixty thousand acres of land, two-thirds of which are almost entirely worthless for any purpose to which white men would desire to convert it. Within the limits of the reservation on the middle fork of the Malheur, there is considerable land which it is reasonable to suppose from the appearance of the soil would produce good wheat, oats and barley, and some of the more hardy vegetables. The winters, however, are very cold and severe, and it is safe to calculate on frost every month in the year. The place selected for the agency is on the Creighton road, three miles below where the same crosses the middle fork of the Malheur river. It is twenty-three miles from the Boise and Canyon City military road, seventy-five miles from Canyon City, and thirty-three miles northeast of Camp Harney. This reservation is designed for the occupation of the Snake Indians now in that vicinity and roaming over all that portion of southeastern Oregon not occupied by the whites. Some of them desire to engage in the pursuits of civilized life, while others, who are more under the influence of the 'war chiefs,' prefer to live as their fathers lived, free from the fetters and restraints of a reservation. This latter class seem to have but little respect or sympathy for the practices of the 'pale faces' and would much rather be let alone. Mr. Odeneal will immediately forward his report to the Department at Washington, and in due course of time necessary arrangements will be made for the occupation of the reservation."

Horace Greeley writes as follows on the subject of caterpillars: "You may assure my Southern friends that I feel great concern at the reports which reach me of the disastrous presence of caterpillars in that section of the country. I am not prepared authoritatively to advise what is the best course to pursue, as my knowledge in such matters is exceedingly limited, but it seems to me that with the aid of a windlass they might pull down the pillars, and so involve the whole nuisance in a common ruin. Suggestively, yours."

When Victoria C. Woodhull was making money and spending it, Theodore Tilton was her champion and biographer, and for being so was excoriated by every decent Democratic and Republican journal in the land. Now that the Woodhull has grown poor, Theodore has turned his back on her, instead of going round about her and catalogueing her charms. Her paper is dead, but she and Horace Greeley are still candidates for the Presidency.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 6, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country:

1. During the eleven years of its supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time. It has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all, and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offenses, and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has [illegible] a new policy toward the Indians. The Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted, the public lands freely given to actual settlers, immigration protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. A uniform national currency has been provided, repudiation frowned down, the National credit sustained under the most extraordinary burdens, and new bonds negotiated at lower rates of interest. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reduction of the rates of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during Gen. Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured those amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a lifetenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the line of duty became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, "once a subject always a subject," having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Government, and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities add a just share of the mutual profits of those two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction; and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party propose to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of assailing constitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured, of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary ones of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d4p4
